RELOCATION BENEFITS SUMMARY

This Summary is a representation of the business-supported relocation benefits. Please refer to the LinkedIn Relocation Assistance Program Guide for additional details and explanation of benefits.

Program Component

Program Eligibility: This Program is intended for business-sponsored relocation of current employees or new hires required to relocate and work in another location for an indefinite period of time and without expectation or commitment by LinkedIn to return them to their departure location or to any other location locally or internationally.

Program Administration: Altair Global will administer all relocation activities and benefits under its contract with LinkedIn. Your Altair Consultant will assist you throughout your transition and will answer any relocation questions that you may have during the relocation process.

Baseline Benefits

Must be used within the first 30 days following your LinkedIn start date in the new location.

Immigration (as needed): Assistance with obtaining and extending necessary work permits and visas for employees and their eligible family members.

Temporary Housing: Up to 30 days temporary furnished accommodations (typically one- or two-bedroom unit based on family size and availability).

Travel to Destination Location: The cost of flights, train tickets, or mileage reimbursement (up to the total cost of the flight), if driving to the destination location.

Home Search Assistance: Resources (details provided by Altair Consultant based on destination) to help locate new accommodations in the destination location.

Relocation Paid Time Off: Up to 5 days paid time off to accommodate relocation needs (with Manager approval), following your LinkedIn start date.

International Benefits Only

Compliance Support: Local registration information and assistance with bank account set up.

Tax Assistance: Tax briefing and tax return preparation services will be provided for the departure and destination countries for the year of the move, as determined by your LinkedIn start date in the new location.

Flex Reimbursement Allowance (Employee Choice)

Must be used within 6 months from your LinkedIn start date in the new location.

- Flex Reimbursement Allowance is a non-cash allowance. You can select from a list of eligible items for reimbursement from the Flex Reimbursement Allowance Covered List.
- Flex Reimbursement Allowance is awarded in accordance with the offer letter/contract of employment.
- The intention of the Flex is to assist you in the purchase of basic goods and services for your relocation and settlement. We provide flexibility with thoughtful boundaries. Reimbursable items are generally basic necessities, not day to day ongoing living expenses or luxury items.
- All items require submission with a receipt of purchase and/or bank, debit, or credit card statement. You may also choose to have some services direct billed through Altair Global (where available).
- Typical relocation services which can be requested as part of the Flex Reimbursement Allowance:
    - Additional temporary housing
    - Car rental or ground transportation (taxi, train, bus etc.)
    - Household goods shipment
    - Extended Destination services (school search, home search, orientation tour etc.)
    - Basic furniture purchases or rentals
    - First Month's Rent and security deposit (as requested upon initial lease signing)

Taxes on Relocation Benefits

LinkedIn will supplement destination country taxes incurred on any taxable relocation Baseline Benefits and Flex Reimbursement Allowance provided to you in connection with your LinkedIn Relocation. It will be computed using a gross up methodology using the withholding tax rate that is generally applied in the destination country and reported on your annual income tax statement.

Updated January 2020